DEMONSTRATORS NEAR SOVIET EMBASSY ARRESTED

0W120523 Tokyo KYODO in English 0516 GMT 12 Dec 84

[Text] Tokyo, Dec. 12 KYODO -- Police Wednesday arrested three rightists demonstrating near the Soviet Embassy here against a private-level business cooperation committee meeting. The three were arrested on charge of obstructing policemen's duties. Twenty-five rightist groups mobilized 202 rightists for their demonstration against the Japan-Soviet business forum near the Soviet Embassy and hotel New Otani where the committee opened a three-day discussion Wednesday morning.

BUSINESS COOPERATION MEETING WITH USSR HELD

Abe Addresses Meeting

0W120309 Tokyo KYODO in English 0303 GMT 12 Dec 84

[Text] Tokyo, Dec. 12 KYODO -- A senior Japanese businessman, in a keynote speech to a Japan-Soviet business cooperation committee meeting, Wednesday called for expansion of bilateral trade on a "higher and diversified" level. In the speech, Hiroshi Anzai, board chairman of the Tokyo Gas Co., also said expansion of Japan-Soviet trade requires "normalized" relations between the two countries.

This obviously referred to the present chilly relations between Tokyo and Moscow -- a combined product of the 1979 Soviet invasion of Afghanistan, the shooting down of a South Korean airliner by Soviet missiles last year, and the continued Soviet occupation of four small Japanese islands off Hokkaido, a major island in northern Japan. The Afghan incident triggered Japanese economic sanctions against the Soviet Union and as a result the private economic committee held no joint session since 1979.

Two-way trade has been declining since it peaked at 5.58 billion dollars in 1982. It is likely to drop below 4 billion dollars this year. In the speech, Anzai said Japan and the Soviet Union can take advantage of their economic potential and geographical proximity to expand economic relations beyond cooperation currently promoted in joint development of Soviet natural resources.

Some 120 Japanese businessmen took part in the opening session of the three-day meeting held at a Tokyo hotel. A 70-man Soviet delegation was led by Vice Foreign Trade Minister Vladimir N. Sushkov. The committee is scheduled to hold nine subcommittee sessions Thursday.

A joint communique will be issued Friday after the end of the meeting, according to a Japanese official. Foreign Minister Shintaro Abe, who also addressed the opening session, said he valued highly the expansion of the bilateral trade and economic relations which, he said, would help promote mutual understanding and cooperation between the two countries. He called on the Soviet delegates at the meeting to deepen their understanding on the territorial issue.

Japan and the Soviet Union are still unable to conclude a peace treaty because the territorial problem remains unsolved. The territorial problem is the basic political issue between Japan and the Soviet Union, he said.

Elaborating, Anzai stressed the need for realizing the return of the four small Japanese islands off Hokkaido from Soviet occupation as a precondition for concluding a peace treaty between the two countries, which, he said, serves as a basis for normal Russo-Japanese relations.

ABE VIEWS PLAN TO PROVIDE NUCLEAR CARRIER PORT

OW121229 Tokyo KYODO in English 1206 GMT 12 Dec 84

[Excerpts] Tokyo, Dec. 12 KYODO -- Japan indicated Wednesday it may be open to a plan to provide home ports to U.S. nuclearpowered aircraft carriers. Foreign Minister Shintaro Abe told a Diet committee the government would not reject such a plan only because they were nuclear-powered.

The foreign minister, replying to opposition questioners, said the government did not know whether the United States has a plan to use Yokosuka or Sasebo as home port for a nuclearpowered aircraft carrier.

Abe told a lower house committee that the government could not refuse the crewmen and their relatives to reside in Yokosuka or Sasebo on the grounds their ships are nuclearpowered.

GOVERNMENT FORMALLY APPROVES GRANTS TO AFRICA

OW110925 Tokyo KYODO in English 0651 GMT 11 Dec 84

[Text] Tokyo, Dec. 11 KYODO -- The government Tuesday gave a formal go-ahead for 22 billion yen (89 million dollars) in grants to drought-stricken African countries. The outright grants, the third in a series for the current fiscal year, include 5.74 billion yen to help finance food supplies and related projects.

This has brought to 114 billion yen (462 million dollars) Japan's total committed financial assistance to these countries for the year ending next March. Specific assistance plans will be worked out through negotiations with the recipient countries.

The money for food-related projects forms part of 150 million dollars Japan earlier pledged to provide under international food assistance programs for the countries, including an additional 50 million dollars for the year Foreign Minister Shintaro Abe promised during his tour of three African countries last month. Projects under consideration include the construction of a 1 billion yen (4 million dollar) grain warehouse in Zambia. Food transportation, farmland development and waterway construction projects are also eyed, officials said.

AGRICULTURAL COOPERATION PACT SIGNED WITH BRAZIL

[Text] Tokyo, Dec. 11 KYODO -- The Japanese and Brazilian Governments Tuesday signed an agreement on cooperation in a Brazilian agricultural development program. The program calls for Japanese cooperation, both governmental and private, in development of a vast bush zone in central Brazil, covering a total area of about 180 million hectares, for growing soybeans, corn, wheat, coffee and citrus.

The Japanese Government officially pledged its cooperation in the project when Brazilian President Joao Baptista de Oliveira Figueiredo visited Japan last May. On a private level, Japan has been promoting cooperation on an experimental basis at a 50,000-hectare site since 1979, investing about 7 billion yen (28.3 million dollars) so far.

ABE URGES UNCONDITIONAL VISIT BY GROMYKO

[Text] Tokyo, Dec. 13 KYODO -- Foreign Minister Shitaro Abe told an upper house committee meeting Thursday if Soviet Foreign Minister Andrey Gromyko would visit Japan on a friendship basis without setting down prior conditions, results would be achieved. Commenting on the long pending Japan visit by Gromyko, Abe told the upper house Foreign Affairs Committee Thursday "it is unusual that conditions must be set down for fixed bilateral talks at the foreign-ministerial level."

Although the Japanese Government has long desired a Tokyo visit by the Soviet foreign minister to mend relations which deteriorated following the 1979 Soviet invasion of Afghanistan, Gromyko has insisted on concrete conditions to make such a trip worthwhile. Moreover, Gromyko has been quoted as saying now is not a proper time to visit Tokyo because there is no room for discussion of the Japanese northern islands territorial claim. Soviet Foreign Ministry officials have called for a bilateral economic agreement as a possible "condition."

Abe also told the committee the Japanese Government has not veered from its basic policy of aiming for a resolution of its demand for return of the northern islands, seized by the Soviet Union at the end of the Pacific War, and the conclusion of a peace treaty. "Although we differ in our political systems, we are nevertheless neighboring nations and I hope for progress through talks," he said adding, "It is with this in mind that we await with great expectation a Gromyko visit in the next year."

USSR OFFICIAL ON POSSIBILITY OF JOINT VENTURES

[Text] Tokyo, Dec. 13 KYODO -- A high-ranking Soviet trade official indicated Thursday his country is ready to study the possibility of establishing joint ventures with foreign capital and free trade zones. Vice Foreign Trade Minister I.T. Grishin told the second-day session of the Japan-Soviet Business Cooperation Committee that he considers it necessary to study whether it is possible for the Soviet Union to take such measures as part of industrial cooperation with other countries. The establishment of joint ventures and free trade zones is currently prohibited in the Soviet Union.

Grishin made the statement in response to a Japanese proposal for such Soviet actions, made during the first-day session Wednesday. Soviet delegates to the meeting also expressed hope for holding negotiations with Japan on the conclusion of a long-term trade agreement as the basis of expanding bilateral economic and trade relations.

OFFICIALS REACT TO U.S. COMMUNICATIONS REQUEST

OW131317 Tokyo KYODO in English 1251 GMT 13 Dec 84

[Text] Tokyo, Dec. 13 KYODO -- The United States has formally asked Japan to give U.S. communications apparatus makers greater access to the Japanese market when Japan's domestic communications services are decontrolled next April, government officials said Thursday. The six-point request, received through diplomatic channels, calls for, among other things, participation of representatives of American firms in a Japanese organization for approval and inspection of communications apparatus after the planned liberalization through transfer of the Nippon Telegraph and Telephone Public Corp. (NTT) to a private status, they said.

THAILAND'S RATTAKUN MAKES VISIT TO TOKYO

Talks With Abe

OW200509 Tokyo KYODO in English 0446 GMT 20 Dec 84

[Excerpt] Tokyo, Dec. 20 KYODO -- Thailand called on Japan Thursday to further open its market to agricultural produce and promote joint ventures in the Southeast Asian country. Thai Deputy Prime Minister Phichai Rattakun also said his country wants Japan's economic aid which would lead to promotion of Thai exports to help whittle down the chronic trade imbalance. He made the request in a meeting with Japanese Foreign Minister Shintaro Abe, officials said.

A foreign ministry source said Phichai deplored Tokyo's failure to trim a tariff on boneless chicken from the current 18 percent and expressed worry about political effect the failure is having in Thailand.

Abe explained that domestic opposition forced the government not to cut tariff on boneless chicken but that the [word indistinct] government made "maximum efforts" it could to facilitate imports from Thailand and (?other) countries.

Last week, Japan announced a new package of market-opening measures, including tariff reductions on frozen shrimps and cuttlefish and canned pineapples, a move Abe said would benefit the Thais.

In his talks here with Abe, Phichai again urged Japan to cut tariff on boneless chicken, arguing the issue has become a symbol of lopsided two-way trade which the Thais assert is causing a deficit of as much as 1.5 billion dollars a year.

Abe said, ministry officials later related, Japan is ready to extend technical assistance for protection of maize from mould and sterilization of fruits to aid Thailand's export drive. The Japanese foreign minister also told Phichai that imports of tapioca pellet from Thailand are steadily on the rise, the official added. Abe's proposal for working-level consultations over trade, economic cooperation and investment between the two countries received Phichai's support, the Japanese officials said.

Japan is also boosting the purchases of Thai rice for food assistance to poor countries by 2 billion yen (about 8 million dollars) from a year ago to 6.1 billion yen (about 24.6 million dollars) this year, Abe noted.

Meets Agriculture Minister

OW210653 Tokyo KYODO in English 0645 GMT 21 Dec 84

[Text] Tokyo, Dec. 21 Kyodo -- Visiting Thai Vice Prime Minister Phichai Rattakun Friday renewed his appeal to Japan to reduce its import tariffs on boneless chicken. In a meeting with Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries Minister Moriyoshi Sato, Phichai expressed dissatisfaction over the absence of the tariff cut in Japan's package of market-opening measures announced on December 14, saying tariffs on U.S. chicken with bones are lower than those on boneless chicken. In reply, Sato explained the plight of Japan's chicken farmers and cited import expansion of such agricultural products as maize and tapioca.

NAKASONE MEETS SOUTH KOREAN FOREIGN MINISTER YI

[Text] Tokyo, Dec. 21 KYODO -- South Korea wants to work together with Japan and other developed countries for Pacific cooperation in regional economic development, Foreign minister Yi Won-kyong said here Friday.
